I met with a couple of dozen county commissioners who represent Keystone Pipeline affected counties last night. I was invited for a hastily called meeting that took place after the ND Association of Counties Banquet at the Ramkota. They wanted to assure me their counties support the pipeline. The meeting was prompted by the letter from the mayor of Fargo. I suggested they get official support records from their respective commissions since the mayor wrote on behalf of the entire city of Fargo. I had each person in attendance sign a sheet so we would have a record of participants. They all said they would go back to their counties and either vote on a resolution or send a letter to the PSC for the record.
