

hall is flat on his high notes and the piano downstairs is out of tune." Striking the tuning fork once again he concluded, "That* is an A."

When it comes to God, some people don't want to hear the tuning fork. God knows everything that will ever happen before it occurs, right? But we are told, "It's not that simple." The Bible is God's holy and inerrant word to us. Again, we hear: "Not that simple." Jesus is the Messiah and Savior, fully God and fully man. "Not that simple," some protest. We must confess with our mouths and believe in our hearts that God raised Him from the dead in order to be saved. "Not that simple," some say, in all earnestness.

The Bible says that those who die apart from Messiah will face certain judgment. And again we are told, "It's not that simple." The Apostle Paul saw this coming.

"For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but according to their own desires, because they have itching ears, they will heap up for themselves teachers; and they will turn their ears away from the truth, and be turned aside to fables." (2 Timothy 4:3-4)

Paul predicts people's inability or unwillingness to hear truth. He describes doctrines we must be prepared for the results. We will be told, "It's not that simple." We will be told that we are narrow-minded, simplistic, intolerant. That is the price of sticking to the truth. But the price of nuancing truth is far greater.

Imagine driving down a highway where you encounter a sign that reads, "Dangerous curve ahead." You could slow down, maintain the same speed or speed up. Whatever you do, you can't nuance the truth of that sign or what will happen if you ignore or reinterpret it. Or what about a traffic light? As you approach, do you question whether the red is the right shade to cause you to halt? Do you hesitate when you see green because it is too dark or light a green?

I am afraid that many are ignoring the plain signs of Scripture. The gray area is growing into a dense fog that blinds people to the truth. We have no liberty to invent a message we find more comfortable to proclaim or to otherwise nuance the truth. It is our responsibility to communicate the word that God has spoken. We are to love it, to proclaim it, to lift up our voices without fear of disfavor and boldly make it known. It is just that simple.

we really don't have life so hard. Just think if you had to go out in the bitter cold with a team of horses to get around now that would be something to complain about, but the older generation can still find lots of good memories.

We started our exercise with regular stretches and ended with line walking to the sounds of Polka music. Just imagine six ladies and I walking through the halls clapping and swaying our hands to the music. The ones who could not join the walking enjoyed listening to the music from the dining room.

Thursday morning we had four residents peeling apples for our "Bake-for-Snack" they made baked apples. The weather was so nice on Thursday afternoon seven residents and I walked to the café and enjoyed coffee and pie. When we returned three other residents and I hopped in the van to check and see what the co-op had for good snacks. We had evenings filled with games and fun.

Once again another fun week for us here at the center. I read a beautiful saying I would like to share "One person can make a difference". One morning a man walked along a beach covered with thousands of starfish that had washed up during a storm. Now they lay dying in the sun. He saw a young girl picking up the starfish one by one and tossing them into the sea. As he approached her he couldn't help but ask, "Why bother? There are too many of them. You won't make much of a difference." She picked up another starfish and tossed it into the water. Then she turned to the man and said, "I made a difference to that one." Remember in Life no matter how small or large your act of kindness is "One Person can make a difference".

Reminisce Corner: This week by Edna R...

Edna, Alfred, Emil and Lillian were on one of their many trips, this one to a Ford convention to Arizona. On the way there they went through Mission, South Dakota and saw the home of Bob Barker. Once they got to Arizona the two ladies decided to go to the Price is Right show. Edna was one of the lucky people to come forward and meet Bob Barker. She told him she knew right where his home was for they had passed it many times. Bob Barker was so impressed with her he gave her a beautiful scarf that she has to this day. She brought her scarf out for all to see.

From all of us here at the Care Center have a great week. Pictures of the week: Marlene and Emma peeling apples. Arlyss, Frances, Lois, and Annetta enjoying puzzle sheets. Elda volunteering rolling silverware. Edna and her scarf from Bob Barker.
