

Good day ladies and gentlemen,

My name is Sergeant Adam Miller and I am currently serving our country in the United States Marine Corps. My father Jim recently informed me about the wind turbine project going up around our home. He told me that it will be built pretty much in our back yard. All I thought was it will be an eyesore to our home, then he told me about the health and noise issues caused by the turbines. The thought of coming home to our peaceful farm was all shot down. I dedicate my career and my time with my wife and daughter to our country. I fought in Iraq for this countries freedom and what do I come home to? Huge industrial machinery being built around the home I grew up in.

My job requires me to work around one of the loudest jets that the military has to offer and I know first hand what kind of health risks that are caused. I am not asking to stop the construction of wind generators, I think they are great for our economy and environment. I would just like to see them being kept far enough away from our homes to prevent any issues that might develop.

Sincerely,

Sergeant Adam Miller, USMC
