Sue, that is correct. The demand for repayment is only associated with storage, handling, and freight costs. If you have any further questions, let me know. Thanks, Korey.

Korey,

This e-mail is a follow-up to our recent conversation about the demand for repayment letter that J & K Grain, LLC received in the VeraSun Energy Bankruptcy. I understood you to say that the letter to J & K Grain, LLC was from payments associated with storage, handling, and freight costs and not for grain sales to the ethanol facility in Hankinson, North Dakota.

Please confirm by responding to this e-mail that the demand for repayment from J & K Grain, LLC in the VeraSun Energy Bankruptcy proceeding was related to non-grain sales.

Thank you and please let me know if you have questions.
