2009 REPORT OF FEDERAL HIGH-COST UNIVERSAL SERVICE SUPPORT
for 2008 and 2010

I. INTRODUCTION

In accordance with the regulations established by the North Dakota Public Service Commission (“Commission”), North Dakota 5 – Kidder Limited Partnership (the “Company”) submits this 2009 Report of Federal High-Cost Universal Service Support (“USF Report”).

N.D. Admin. Code § 69-09-05-12.1(1) requires an ETC to submit a report concerning the use of federal high-cost universal service support the ETC has received in the prior calendar year and expects to receive in the following calendar year. The Company respectfully submits this USF Report in compliance with the requirements of N.D. Admin. Code §§ 69-09-05-12.1(1).

II. USE OF SUPPORT RECEIVED IN 2008

Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. § 254(e), federal high-cost universal service support may be used by an ETC only for the provision, maintenance and upgrading of facilities and services for which the support is intended. For calendar year 2008, all federal high-cost universal service support the Company received for its Designated Area in North Dakota was used only for either network improvements, such as construction or upgrade projects, or for operating expenses and maintenance or repair of its network, for purposes of providing the supported services in the Company’s Designated Area.

Attached as Confidential Exhibit A-1 is a spreadsheet identifying specific construction or upgrade projects that the Company undertook in its Designated Area in North Dakota in 2008 in order to expand or improve service. For each improvement, the spreadsheet includes a description of the project, the purpose for the project, the start and completion dates of the project, the amount of investment made in the project, the location of the project, and the estimated population served by the project.¹

The Company also used some of the federal high-cost universal service support it received in 2008 for operating and maintenance expenses, as contemplated and permitted by 47 U.S.C. § 254(e). The categories of operating and maintenance expenses include the costs of telecommunications, long distance, switching, service allocations, rent and lease payments, buildings and utilities, and roaming charges associated with providing service. The Company's total operating and maintenance expenses for providing service in its Designated Area in North Dakota for 2008 is set forth on Confidential Exhibit A-2.

III. PROJECTED NETWORK IMPROVEMENTS FOR 2010

The Company projects that in calendar year 2010 it will receive approximately $2,742,444 in federal high-cost universal service support for the provision of service within its Designated Area in the State of North Dakota. The actual amount of federal universal service support to be received by the Company may vary from this estimate as universal service funding levels and subscribership change over time. If the projected amount of support is not received, the Company reserves the right to modify the projects and other information in this Report accordingly.

All federal high-cost universal service support the Company receives in 2010 for its Designated Area in North Dakota will be used only for either network improvements, such as construction or upgrade projects, or for operating expenses and maintenance or repair of its network, for purposes of providing the supported services in the Designated Area.

PUBLIC VERSION – TRADE SECRET AND CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION REDACTED

The Company has identified certain 2010 construction or upgrade projects that are intended to expand or improve service within its Designated Area in North Dakota. Attached as Confidential Exhibit A-3 is a spreadsheet containing detailed information about these projects, including a description of each project, the purpose for each project, the estimated start and end dates of each project, the amount of investment expected to be made in the project, the expected location of the project, and the estimated population to be served by the project.

The selection of these 2010 facility construction projects is based on the Company's evaluation of many factors, including current consumer demand, competitive forces, and available capital. These and other external factors are not within the Company's control and are subject to change. Such changes may affect the Company's assumptions and calculations of where current network facilities could be improved to provide better coverage and service and where current and projected consumer demand may require increased capacity. As these externally-driven changes occur, the Company will reevaluate and modify its estimates for implementing these projects accordingly. The order in which the Company's proposed 2010 projects will be undertaken has not been finally determined and may be revised over time. As a result, the content and timing of the 2010 projects in Confidential Exhibit A-3 is subject to change.

The Company will also use some of the federal high-cost universal service support it receives in 2010 for operating and maintenance expenses, as contemplated and permitted by 47 U.S.C. § 254(e). The categories of projected operating and maintenance expenses include the costs of telecommunications, long distance, switching, service allocations, rent and lease payments, buildings and utilities, and roaming charges associated with providing service.
