Project Site Safety
On May 9, 2011, a contract worker suffered a minor work-related injury to her right hand. After receiving first aid and additional medical attention, the worker was released with restriction to the hand and is back at work. The injury did not result in lost time. Continue conduction daily safety meetings with all employees.

Comments
The Construction forces will continue working 5 days per week, 10 hours per day unless weather or schedule deliverables require additional hours.
