

run, but the game, had a five points in the first half, as well as Joey Halgrimson and Josh Magnuson.

GFC went on a late run to end the first half, but Carpenter kept the lead from getting too large by hitting a buzzer beating 3-pointer to limit GFC's lead to 30-28.

"He's a good offensive player and he did a heck of a good job there, so we were consecutive passes earlier in the game, topping Montana's record. When he needed several quick completions to get moving in the last minute, he couldn't do it.

The Patriots got only as far as midfield with 5 seconds left. Brady threw a desperation pass into the end zone, where the ball was batted around in a scrum before falling incomplete just beyond the reach of All-Pro tight end Rob Gronkowski, bringing the spray of confetti from above.

"You come down to one play at the end," Brady said. "If we make it, we're world champs. If we don't, we're wishing we were."

Brady's had a tough time against this Giants defense. During the regular season, it pressured him into mistakes during a 24-20 New York win in Foxborough, Mass. The Patriots went on to win their next 10, a streak that ended when Brady faced that same defense on Sunday.

Hurlimann said his team just needs to close out games.

"We're right there competing with good teams in the EDG, one of these times we've just got to get over the hump and get a win," he said. "We've just got to learn to close it out and learn to get that win in the second."

It just seems to have his number. On his first pass of the game, Brady was pressured by Tuck in the end zone and threw the ball to an open spot downfield to get rid of it, resulting in a safety.

By contrast, Manning didn't make any big mistakes and, again, was at his best under the last-minute pressure.

"He's become confident over time, kind of grew into it," said his father, former New Orleans Saints quarterback Archie Manning. "I always felt like you have to experience those situations before you become confident. He's certainly had his share."

And nobody will question anything he says again. Manning was criticized for insisting before the season that he's an elite quarterback. Then, with the Giants struggling, he was overshadowed by a different Manning drama.

Approve joining the North Dakota Water Coalition and appoint two representatives.

Senator Larry Robinson has been very active in the water situation across the state. The North Dakota Water Coalition is composed of people across the state, and they are involved in the water throughout North Dakota in the broadest sense. This coalition meets 4 to 6 times annually, their membership fee is $1,000.00, and they are very active in the legislative assembly. Their next meeting is February 27, 2012, at the Doublewood Inn, Bismarck, ND, at 2 pm. Should Valley City become members of the coalition, two representatives would be appointed, with one appointee required to be very active and seated at the coalition table for active involvement. Senator Robinson stressed that this is the first step in receiving priority when the coalition makes their list to pass on to the legislature to act upon. Commissioner Wagner moved to join the North Dakota Water Coalition, seconded by Commissioner Dutton. The motion passed.
