waltz and polka to that amazing Tibor music. This brought back memories of my father teaching me to dance to that same music.

Another memory which has come up three times in the last two weeks – all from different people, is the words to the Hamms Beer commercial.

The original jingle, with lyrics by Nelle Richmond Eberhart and music by Charles Wakefield Cadman, was derived from a 1909 art song entitled "From the Land of Sky Blue Water". It was first used on radio and later extended to television.

It started with the beating tom-tom drums, after which a chorus intoned:

From the land of sky blue waters, from the land of pines' lofty balsams, comes the beer refreshing. Hamm's the beer refreshing - HAMMS! (As a side note: if you would like to see this old commercial again, it is available for viewing on YouTube.)

There, I have done my homework and now the rest of you can have this little jingle running through your heads too!
