Tiger Woods had to settle for third place on Sunday.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The 117th-ranked Rock shot 70 for an overall 275 to beat McIlroy (69) by a shot. Woods was a further shot back with Thomas Bjorn (68) and Graeme McDowell (68). The 18-year-old Italian Matteo Manassero (69) and George Coetzee (70) of South Africa were another shot back.

ner appears to have recovered from a two-year victory drought in which he was sidelined by injuries and personal turmoil. But Woods must now face the fact that, at age 36, there are plenty of players — known and unknown — who can potentially beat him.

wide, but it was Rock — battling his nerves over playing alongside one of his golfing idols — who held it together down the stretch.

Snedeker, in the group ahead of him, hit wedge to 2 foot for birdie and a 67, then drove up to the media tent for an interview as the runner-up.

“Today I just didn't give myself enough looks at it,” Woods said. “Most of my putts were lag putts. I didn't drive the ball in as many fair-ing for the silver lining out of his third-place finish. He insisted he has been steadily improving — hitting a high percentage of fairways and that I managed to win today. Very surprised,” Rock said. “I played good. So I guess I had a chance from early on, a couple of birdies made the day feel a little bit easier.”

He arrived in time to watch Stanley spin a wedge into the water, then three-putt from 45 feet for a triple-bogey 8 and a 74.

“But it's difficult playing with Tiger. You expect almost every shot to threaten to go in,” The Englishman said.

Two playoff holes later both were in shock. Snedeker made his tap-ir birdie to finish at 16-under 272.
