Rolette County Senior Citizens

Out-of-state visitors at the Rolette County Historical Society Museum and Martineau House last Tuesday were Laurie and James Reinhart of Chicago, Illinois. Laurie is the great-granddaughter of Phyllis (Pete) and Pamela (Bourassa) LeBeau. Pete had a blacksmith shop and garage in St. John for many years. They came here about the turn of the century. They were very pleased to see information in the St. John History Book regard- ing Pete LeBeau and family.

The City is getting ready for their annual St. John Days, which will be held this weekend from Friday to Sunday. The celebration will kick off with a Kid's Rodeo at 5:30; a chilli cook-off at 6; with judging at 6:30; and the Ugly Mutha contest at 7:30. There will be cash prizes for the chilli contest and ugly mutha contest. Everyone is invited to participate in these contests; the more the merrier. On Saturday is a Firemen's Breakfast with free will offering, a parade at 1:00 p.m. and other events going on through the day. Please consult the ad in this week's paper for a list of all the events. Hope to see you all there.

The St. John Senior Citizens held their June meeting last Thursday at 11:00 a.m. Topics on the agenda were: Grant received by the City for doors and windows, etc. for the Sen- ior Citizen Center; a licensed social worker for the State of North Dakota to possibly come and present information to St. John Senior Cit- izens regarding services available; and activities for St. John Days. The seniors will be serving lunch at the Senior Center beginning at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, June 23. They are also planning on having a float for the parade. On Sunday, June 24, service at the Mill Lake Lutheran Church on the grounds of the Rolette County Historical Society, with a potluck picnic lunch to follow at the Senior Center.

With the celebration going on this weekend, there are bound to be lots of people coming home for the weekend. Any news is welcome to put in the St. John column of the newspaper. Call Helen Belgarde at 477-5447 or e-mail hbelgarde@midco.net. Thank you.
