However, since there is only an electronic copy of the hearing and oral argument record available in the Public Service Commission's docket, and counsel for the Public Service Commission has been informed that the appellant requests a written transcript of both the hearing and the oral argument, the electronic record must be transcribed by a private transcription service.

The estimate the Public Service Commission has obtained from a private transcription service to transcribe the two proceedings, for one original transcript and one copy, is two thousand forty dollars ($2,040.00). Further, the parties are advised that the transcription service cannot undertake this project until mid-November.

Dated this 31st day of October, 2014.
