Good Afternoon Penni

The Calibration Certification for the North Dakota weight kit included in your application has expired. North Dakota Administrative Code Section 69-10-03-02 requires a standard used to certify any commercial weighing or measuring device be annually certified as traceable by a NIST-recognized metrology laboratory.

Please have the weight kit recertified and send me a copy of the calibration certificate.

I will put a note on your account that you currently are not doing any work in North Dakota.

If you have any questions, please contact me.

Thank you.

Awesome. I will save the save some time and postage then. Please find the renewal paperwork attached. I have also included the calibration report for the weight set that is already in ND waiting for a tech to complete their studies.

Thank you for your patience with us.

There is no registration fee. Yes, please submit the information to keep your company registration current and then you can work on the technician part.

Thank you.

What is the registration fee?

I have re-filled in the Application but currently do not have someone ready to take the test. Our previous tech left and we have a couple of techs studying, but they are not ready yet. Our last tech's weight set is still under calibration so I can send the calibration report to you.
