Proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm

Stark County, ND

We live in Stark County where the Brady 1 Wind Farm has been proposed for development. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Next Era.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Thank You for your consideration,

Stark County, ND

We live in Stark County where the Brady 1 Wind Farm has been proposed for development. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Next Era.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Thank You for your consideration,

Ray Alford

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm

Stark County, ND

We live in Stark County where the Brady 1 Wind Farm has been proposed for development. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Next Era.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm

Stark County, ND

We live in Stark County where the Brady 1 Wind Farm has been proposed for development. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Next Era.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm

Stark County, ND

We live and own land in the site of the proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm in southern Stark County. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Next Era.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm

Stark County, ND

We live in Stark County where the Brady 1 Wind Farm has been proposed for development. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Next Era.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

Stark County, ND

We live in Stark County where the Brady 1 Wind Farm has been proposed for development. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Next Era.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm

Stark County, ND

We live in one of the adjoining counties (Hettinger, Billings, Dunn, Slope) where the Brady 1 Wind Farm has been proposed for development. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Next Era.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Thank You for your consideration,

The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm

Stark County, ND

We live and own land near the site of the proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm in southern Stark County. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Next Era.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Subject: Proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm, Stark County, ND

To Whom It May Concern:

We live in Stark County where the Brady 1 Wind Farm has been proposed for development. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by NextEra.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics: its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition, current setback requirements in Stark County allow placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings, not property lines. This would award wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has increased as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward, future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many current residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you vote no on the project. If you do not, you should, at a minimum, require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm

Stark County, ND

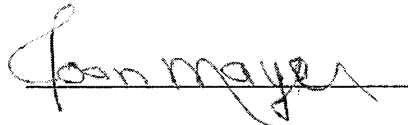

We live in Stark County where the Brady 1 Wind Farm has been proposed for development. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Next Era.

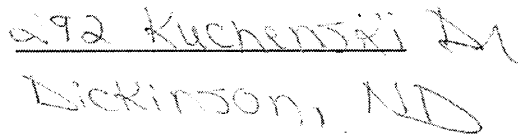

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm

Stark County, ND

We live in Stark County where the Brady 1 Wind Farm has been proposed for development. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Next Era.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm

Stark County, ND

We live in Stark County where the Brady 1 Wind Farm has been proposed for development. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Nest Era.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

Proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm

Stark County, ND

We live and own land in the site of the proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm in southern Stark County. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Next Era.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

The value of land in the area has risen as a result of those who want to live in a rural setting and enjoy the natural aesthetics. If this proposed wind farm goes forward those future residents and related development will go elsewhere, as will many existing residents. Over half of the land owners participating in the wind farm are absentee land owners.

We ask that you say no to the project. If you do not, you should at a minimum require the setback distances be from the property line of any landowner not participating in the project in order to protect their rights to enjoy their property.

Proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm

Stark County, ND

We live and own land near the site of the proposed Brady 1 Wind Farm in southern Stark County. We are opposed to the wind farm and ask you to deny the request by Next Era.

We choose to live in this area largely because of the natural aesthetics, its open views uninterrupted by industrial development. The addition of dozens of large wind turbines in close proximity to our property will greatly diminish or destroy that aesthetic. In addition current setback requirements in Stark County allowing placement of turbines 2,000 feet from existing dwellings and not property lines, awards wind developers an uncompensated nuisance and noise easement across our property.
