Shelly, Thank you for your time today. As per our telephone call I would appreciate a consideration for a sixty day extension of our temporary variance permit for our New Town, North Dakota facility which expires on March 31, 2017. I have already reached out to Cooper and are in discussion for construction schedule to install a permanent foundation for our Rice Lake Scale. Current frost and weather has inhibited our ability and coming into spring construction time we are one of many on the list. Again thank you for your time and help.
