APPLICATION OF NORTH CENTRAL RSA
2 OF NORTH DAKOTA LIMITED
PARTNERSHIP TO PROTECT TRADE
SECRET AND CONFIDENTIAL
INFORMATION IN 2017 FORM 481 ETC
REPORT

CASE NO.

I. INTRODUCTION

North Central RSA 2 of North Dakota Limited Partnership (the “Company”) submits this Application to Protect Trade Secret and Confidential Information contained in its 2017 Form 481 ETC Report (the “Form 481 Report”).<sup>1</sup> The Company requests that certain information in the Form 481 Report be treated as trade secret, proprietary, commercial, and financial information protected from public disclosure pursuant to N.D. Cent. Code § 44-04-18 et seq. Analogous information submitted by the Company with previous ETC compliance filings was granted trade secret protection by the Commission in its March 12 Order.<sup>2</sup>

The information that the Company requests be considered trade secret/confidential is (1) outage reporting information on worksheet 200 of the Form 481; and (2) the number of complaints per 1,000 customers, on line 420 of page 400 of the Form 481 (collectively, these two items are the “Confidential Information”). Consistent with N.D. Admin. Code § 69-02-09-02, <sup>1</sup> In Docket AD-17-049, the Commission is in the process of revising its rules such that this Application would no longer be necessary. But it appears that that rulemaking will not be complete before the July 1, 2017 deadline for this filing. Thus, in an abundance of caution, the Company is submitting this Application as it has done in past years.

the trade secret/confidential version of the Form 481 Report is separately submitted in a sealed envelope marked "Protected information - Private." A public version of the Form 481 Report, with the Confidential Information redacted, has also been filed.

II. THE CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION IS AFFORDED TRADE SECRET PROTECTION BY THE FCC AND UNDER NORTH DAKOTA LAW

North Dakota's Open Records Law (N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18 et seq.) provides that "Except as otherwise specifically provided by law, all records of a public entity [such as the Commission] are public records" and therefore must be made available. N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18(1) (emphasis added). The Open Records Law also contains a specific exception – Section 44-04-18.4(1) – which provides a safeguard for confidential information (the "Confidential Exception"). The Confidential Information falls within the "otherwise specifically provided by law" exception because it is treated as confidential by the regulations and orders of the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC"). Moreover, the Confidential Information falls within the statutorily-defined Confidential Exception.

A. The FCC Treats this Information as Confidential

The "term 'law' as used in [N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18(1)] includes federal statutes and applicable federal regulations, as well as state law." N.D. Op. Atty. Gen. L-32, 1998 WL 1058327 (Mar. 30, 1998). The Confidential Information is stated to be confidential by the FCC under 47 C.F.R. §§ 0.457 and 0.459 and its orders. See, e.g., Outage Order<sup>3</sup> (explaining why network outage information is considered confidential for reasons of national security). In its March 12 Order, the Commission found that information nearly identical in nature to the Confidential Information "is protected under federal regulation." March 12 Order at 5.

<sup>3</sup> In the Matter of New Part 4 of the Commission's Rules Concerning Disruptions to Communications, ET Docket No. 04-35, Report and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, FCC 04-188, 19 FCC Rcd. 16830 (rel. Aug. 19, 2004) ("Outage Order").

Accordingly, the Commission should consider the Company's current Confidential Information to be confidential under the exception in N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18(1) for information "otherwise specifically provided by law" as non-public.

B. The Confidential Information Falls Within the Confidential Exception

Section 44-04-18.4(1)'s Confidential Exception provides as follows: "(1) Trade secret, proprietary, commercial, and financial information is confidential if it is (2) of a privileged nature and (3) it has not been previously publicly disclosed." (emphasis and numbering added).

"Trade secret" is defined as follows:

"Trade secret" means information, including a formula, pattern, compilation, program, device, method, technique, technical know how or process, that:

1. Derives independent economic value, actual or potential, from not being generally known to, and not being readily ascertainable by proper means by, other persons that can obtain economic value from its disclosure or use; and
2. Is the subject of efforts that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain the secrecy of the information.

N.D.C.C. § 44.04-18.4(d).<sup>4</sup>

The Confidential Information meets each element of the Confidential Exception under North Dakota Statutes. First, it all falls squarely within the definition of a "trade secret." If the Company's competitors obtained the Confidential Information, the competitors could obtain economic value from the disclosure. Given this potential, the Company closely safeguards the Confidential Information by prohibiting employee disclosure and restricting access to it. Second, the Confidential Information is "of a privileged nature" because "disclosure of the information is likely ... to cause substantial harm to the competitive position of the person from whom the information was obtained." See N.D. Op. Atty. Gen. L-77, 1998 WL 1058291 (June 17, 1998). The Company would be substantially harmed if the Confidential Information were made public.

<sup>4</sup> See also N.D.C.C. § 47-25.1-01, which provides a nearly identical definition of "trade secret."

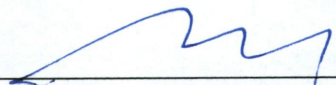

Finally, the Confidential Information has not previously been disclosed. Therefore, as the Commission found in its March 12 Order, the Confidential Information qualifies for confidential treatment under N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18.4.

III. CONCLUSION

The Company respectfully requests that the Confidential Information be held confidential pursuant to N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18 et seq., consistent with the March 12 Order.

Respectfully submitted,
BRIGGS AND MORGAN, P.A.
