ORDER GRANTING PROTECTION OF INFORMATION

May 1, 2019

On October 27, 2017, Northern States Power Company (NSP) filed an Application for Protection of Information to protect certain information in the captioned case.

In NSP's Application, NSP seeks protection for cost information, contract terms, confidential bid information, and internal modeling results and cost estimates, engineering judgment and interconnection data, as well as information from which the foregoing may be derived, regarding NSP's proposal to add the Foxtail wind project to NSP's system.

Specifically, NSP seeks protection of information addressing project in-service date, the levelized cost of energy for the proposed wind resource additions, net capacity factors, annual energy production information, and capital cost estimates.

NSP states that this information is commercial information because it is "information pertaining to buying or selling of goods and services that has not been previously publicly disclosed and that if the information were to be disclosed, "...would cause substantial competitive injury to the person from which the information was obtained," as provided in North Dakota Century Code Section 44-04-18.4(2)(a). NSP's application also states that the information sought to be protected meets the definition of "trade secret" set forth in North Dakota Century Code Section 47-25.1-01(4).

NSP's application asserts that this information is trade secret because it is information that "(1) [d]erives independent economic value, actual or potential, from not being generally known to, and not being readily ascertainable by proper means by other persons that can obtain economic value from its disclosure or use; and (2) [i]s the subject of efforts that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain the secrecy of the information," as provided in North Dakota Century Code Section 44-04-18.4(2)(d).

NSP claims the information could have economic value to potential vendors, contractors, and suppliers who may desire to bid for the provision of generation resources to the Company in the future. Potential suppliers would know what the Company has paid, and, consequently, the price could potentially serve as a floor, below which no bidder would submit a price. Such a result could be harmful for the Company's customers.

The confidentiality of this information has been maintained by NSP. The information is not disclosed to the public or to persons other than employees or authorized agents who need to know the information to fulfill their responsibilities in connection with the subject matter of the information or to third persons pursuant to nondisclosure agreement to maintain the confidentiality of the information. Other entities from which NSP purchases power and generation facilities (or could purchase power and generation facilities in the future) and other utilities and independent power producers, would obtain economic value from disclosure of this information.

NSP has requested that this information be treated as trade secret in all of its regulatory filings. North Dakota Administrative Code section 69-02-09-03 provides "the commission staff shall examine the information and application, and file and serve a response that includes a recommendation on whether the information qualifies for protection."

On April 1, 2019, staff reviewed the request of NSP for protection of information. Staff believes that the application satisfies the requirements of the law, which allows the Commission to grant protection of information in this proceeding.

Having reviewed the application and staff review, the Commission concludes NSP application satisfies the requirements of the North Dakota Century Code for protection of the information.
