North Dakota Public Service Commission
Wilson to Bowline Creek Junction Pipeline
McKenzie County, North Dakota

Dear Sir/Madam,

Belle Fourche Pipeline Company filed an application with the North Dakota Public Service Commission to convert the existing Wilson to Bowline pipeline to a transmission pipeline. The existing pipeline is located within 500 feet of your residence or business. The Commission's regulations provide that areas within five hundred feet of an inhabited residence or business are an avoidance area unless waived by the owner in writing. By signing below, you confirm that you have no objection to the conversion of the existing pipeline, and no objection to the operation of the pipeline as a crude oil transmission pipeline. Again, this letter is not a consent request for a new pipeline but rather for the conversion of the designation of an existing pipeline, and along with that the subsequent regulations which govern its use and maintenance.
