

This permit renewal is being requested because mining has not yet been completed in this permit area, which is due to expire. The performance bond for surface coal mining and reclamation operations in Permit NACC-1302 is sufficient and will continue in full force for the renewal period. Calculation for reclamation liability is updated in the renewal application and includes all documents for this permit area. Liability insurance will be provided to the North Dakota Public Service Commission on an annual basis for the renewal period. No acreage changes are associated with this application.
