

North Dakota Public Service Commission,

Applicable ND One Call locate ticket number: 19142730

On October 21, 2019 a Kinder Morgan rep. was notified verbally that work was probably going to begin on the Jean Junction location the next day. The morning of October 22, 2019 Continental Resources cleared Crawford's Construction, Inc. to perform work at the Jean Junction. A Kinder Morgan rep. showed up on location and started taking pictures (excavation was not halted). A Crawford's Construction, Inc. employee felt there was no violation taking place and took pictures himself.

After reviewing the complaint and detailed pictures, I see no reason for Crawford's Construction, Inc. to be in violation of ND One Call.

The picture marked as #1 is a little miss leading to us. It's dated October 22, 2019 at 12:30:54 with no excavation taking place, and the Kinder Morgan rep. supposedly got to location at 1:00 pm.

The picture marked as #2 clearly indicates where the operator did the excavation with the bucket of the excavator and where the employees sloped off the remaining 18" with shovels from the trench up to within approximately 10" of Kinder Morgan pipeline. Once the operator got pass the Kinder Morgan piping you can clearly tell that he started benching with the excavator. (Note the shovel marks on the slope midway down the piping.)

The picture marked as #3 clears up a lot of details:

- 1.) The excavation taking place approximately 2'8" from Kinder Morgan pipeline.
- 2.) The Crawford's Construction, Inc. employees using shovels to slope off the edge of the trench to help prevent cave-ins.
- 3.) The distance between mechanical excavation and pipeline is clearly greater than the 24" ND One Call code.

The picture marked #4 is not the measurement from the edge of excavation trench to piping, it is clearly indicating the measurement from top of slope made by shovels, sloping off trench, to edge of piping.

Sincerely,
