The siting application should be for a 400 million standard cubic foot per day gas processing plant, not 250. Outrigger Energy's January 6, 2020 press release states "Plans are also underway for a plant expansion of up to an additional 200 MMcfd, for total gas processing capacity of 450 MMcfd."

It is not appropriate for the commission to allow siting for a 250 sized facility when it is clear that the applicant has plans underway to expand the facility to a capacity of 450.
