Patriots baseball wins in Hope

By dave dakken

The May-Port Patriots played good baseball at Frost Field on July 14, winning 8-4 over Finley-Sharon/Hope-Page.

The first five innings were solid offensively and defensively. They led 6-1 through five. The only negative at that point was that they didn't score as many base runners as they could have.

Nonetheless, they plated two runs in the top of the second and four in the fifth.

The second inning began with Lucas Fugleberg's lead-off single. You don't see it often, but the next batter, Dylan Huard, reached first on a catcher's interference call. That's when the catcher puts his glove too far forward so that the batter's swing hits the catcher's mitt.

RBI-singles by Jordan Sherva and Sammy Sawyer made the score 2-0. Sherva went 3x3 on the night.

FSHP came to life for a run in the bottom of the fourth with two singles producing the run.

The four runs in the fifth put the Patriots on solid ground. Singles by Sherva and a long single off the top of the left-field fence by Jordan Evans set the table. Kade Susie tripled down the right field line to clear the bases, except for himself of course. The two subsequent runs were aided by the home team's defense and the legs of Ethan Bergstrom.

Bergstrom reached first after being hit by a pitch. He stole second. With the help of a wild throw into the outfield, he popped up and headed for third and Susie scored at the same time. Another errant play had the ball rolling past a play on Bergstrom at third. Therefore, Bergstrom kept on trucking home.

The Patriot defense got a little sloppy, in turn, in the sixth and seventh innings. It was like throwing the ball away became contagious. Although they scored lone runs in the last two innings, they gave up three.

The run in the sixth came when Jake Hutter doubled and Sherva drove him in with his third hit. Small-ball plated the final Patriot run. Evans singled leading off. He was able to move to third on a steal of second and a 5-3 ground-out by Susie. At that point, Coach Taylor Kunkel signaled for the suicide-squeeze play. Bergstrom executed a perfect bunt down the first-base line; Evans was already on his way to home plate. It wasn't even close at the plate. Evans scored standing up. Well, he was still running actually.

The Patriots used three pitchers. Starter Kade Susie went four innings, allowing three hits, one run and a walk with five strikeouts. Sawyer Satrom followed. He struck out the side when he took the mound in the fifth. After that he gave up four hits, three runs (one earned) and struck out two more. He left the mound switching places with his brother Sammy at catcher. Sammy had runners on first and third when he got the ball with one out. He finished the game with one hit but no runs crossed the plate.

Susie was the winner and Brady Richman suffered the loss.

New twist on grandparent scam

Con artists will go to great lengths to get between you and your money. Sadly, this includes taking advantage of your love for your family. Scammers are putting a new twist on an old scam that targets grandparents' hearts and wallets.

Scammers contact grandparents, claiming to be their grandchild or calling on behalf of their grandchild.

With a nod to the pandemic, they will explain your grandchild fell ill and was rushing to the hospital and wrecked his car — and possibly even hurt someone — and is now in jail. They will ask you to send money right away — often through a money transfer service or by purchasing gift cards.

The phone calls often come late at night when you may be less clear-headed because you are tired or have been sleeping. The scammers will typically offer just enough detail to make the story seem convincing. They may even hand the phone to another scammer who will claim to be a doctor, police officer or lawyer.

Don't panic. Ask the caller questions only your grandchild could answer, such as the name of your grandchild's first pet or where he went to elementary school.

Hang up and call your grandchild's phone number or call other family members to see if they can verify the story.

One way to prevent scams like this is to check the privacy settings on your social media accounts to make sure only friends and family can see your posts and photos. Otherwise, the information scammers can find about you can be used to deceive you in scams just like this.
