Adam Renfandt
North Dakota Public Service Commission
600 East Boulevard, Department 408
Bismarck, ND 58505-0480

Re: Construction inspection services for the Bill Sanderson Residue and natural-gas-liquid pipelines project (Public Service Commission case no. PU-20-247)

Dear Mr. Renfandt:

Barr Engineering Co. is pleased to submit our proposal to provide construction inspection services for two pipelines, including an 8-inch, 1.28-mile natural-gas-liquid (NGL) pipeline and a 20-inch, 4.67-mile residue gas pipeline. These pipelines are known as the Bill Sanderson Residue and NGL pipelines project in case no. PU-20-247 located in Williams County, North Dakota, approximately 15 miles west of Williston.

The North Dakota Century Code (chapter 49-22) authorizes the North Dakota Public Service Commission (PSC) to determine that location, construction, and operation of energy conversion facilities will produce minimal adverse effects on the environment and welfare of North Dakota citizens. The construction and reclamation inspections ensure that projects are in compliance with the siting laws and rules, and are applicable to the PSC findings of fact, conclusions of law, and order.

Scope of work

Barr will complete the following construction inspection services:

Task 1: Topsoil removal inspection

Barr will inspect topsoil stripping not to exceed 12 inches along the construction right of way to verify that topsoil is properly removed and kept segregated from subsoil until replacement occurs. We will provide and maintain personnel at each construction spread during topsoil and subsoil removal and segregation activities. We will also determine whether equipment operators have demonstrated proficiency concerning topsoil and subsoil removal and segregation in compliance with applicable PSC orders.

Task 2: Construction inspection

Barr will complete a construction inspection of the project and all construction extents at approximately 75% construction completion to confirm compliance with applicable construction and restoration conditions, siting laws and rules, and applicable PSC orders. We will observe construction activities to determine compliance with required depth of cover, observe ongoing topsoil segregation during construction, and determine compliance with all other PSC orders. Construction reports will include locations where checks were performed, color photos of construction activities, and identification of areas of concern and recommendations for resolution of issues.

Task 3: As-built construction inspection

After completing topsoil replacement and grading as well as fertilization and seeding of the entire project area, Barr will conduct an as-built inspection of the project. During the reclamation and revegetation inspection, we will identify areas of concern that will need to be addressed after one full growing season. We will also determine whether the pipelines have been constructed in compliance with the siting laws and rules and applicable PSC orders.

Task 4: Reclamation and revegetation inspection

Barr will complete a post-construction reclamation and revegetation inspection of the project and all construction extents to confirm compliance with relevant construction and restoration conditions, siting laws and rules, and applicable PSC orders. A follow-up inspection of the areas of concern identified in the as-built inspection report will be included. Barr will determine whether the area affected by construction activities has been restored as near as practicable to pre-construction conditions, including the reestablishment of desired plant species where applicable.

Assumptions

Barr made a number of assumptions regarding quantity and duration of topsoil removal and construction inspections. These assumptions are listed below and are subject to our negotiated final proposal.

- We assume two hours of inspection for one inspector for topsoil removal with one mobilization.
- We assume one construction inspection with one mobilization. Additional inspections can be performed at the PSC's direction for a price of $2,900 per additional inspection.
- Barr assumes a construction duration of five months based on information provided in the consolidated application and waiver request.
- Our current price is based on available information on the docket as of the date of this proposal. Additional PSC orders requiring more inspections or additional reporting will need to be discussed with Barr and may require a contract amendment for additional services.
- Barr will complete the reclamation and revegetation inspection after one full growing season, from the anniversary date of the completion of fertilization and seeding.
- We will complete the as-built inspection during one mobilization.
- We will complete the reclamation inspection during one mobilization.
- The PSC will provide Barr with the tree and shrub mitigation plan for the desired species planted for final restoration.
- Our work will be limited to what can be visually observed from the ground surface at the time of the inspections.

Professional personnel

The Barr team is anchored by Jason Westbrook, who brings more than two decades of project leadership experience. As principal in charge, he will oversee our technical team to enable the delivery of quality work. Our project manager, Andrew Unbehaun, will manage project work and serve as lead construction inspector, while Wyatt Mack will serve as lead inspector for the as-built and reclamation inspections. The profiles below summarize our team's qualifications and experience.

Jason Westbrook, PE • VP, Senior Civil Engineer • MBA; BS, Civil Engineering
Role: principal in charge

Jason has 23 years of experience in civil and water resources engineering. He specializes in project management, large-project planning, civil engineering design and construction, and hydrologic and hydraulic modeling for projects focused on flood risk management, earthen embankments, and pipelines.

Andrew Unbehaun • Mechanical Engineer • BS, Mechanical Engineering
Role: project manager

Andrew has five years of industrial construction management experience. At Barr, he provides project management, piping system design, construction management and support, as-built documentation, and technical reporting on projects involving pipelines, well pad connections, natural gas processing, and refining. Andrew has also conducted quality control inspections and is involved in quality assurance documentation.

Wyatt Mack • Environmental Scientist • MS, Natural Resources Management
Role: lead inspector

At Barr, Wyatt works on projects involving federal and state environmental review, regulatory compliance, and permitting. He helps clients address environmental and regulatory constraints and prepare applications and reports required for project permitting and implementation. Wyatt's field survey experience includes reclamation and restoration inspections, threatened and endangered species surveys, vegetation sampling, wetland delineations, and construction oversight.

Deliverables

Barr's deliverables for the individual tasks will include written inspection reports with the following:

- Location-referenced color photographs of construction activities
- A map identifying locations where photographs were taken and locations where compliance checks were performed
- An executive summary of the inspection findings concerning issues requiring resolution, areas of concern, and recommendations for resolution of issues
- A determination of whether the transmission facility has been constructed in compliance with the siting laws, siting rules, and applicable PSC orders
- A determination of whether the area affected by construction activities has been restored as near as practicable to the pre-construction conditions, including reestablishment of desired plant species where applicable

Schedule and budget

Barr proposes to complete the scope of work identified above for a cost of $13,345. A breakdown of the costs for each task is provided below.

OE2 pipeline inspection services

Topsoil removal inspection	$3,472
Construction inspection	$3,248
As-built inspection	$3,313
