Prairie Breaking Plow

Early homesteaders used oxen to pull plows that broke and turned the ground for planting. The ox was replaced by horses and eventually tractors. After 1900 farms in the western part of the state used steam-powered or gasoline tractors to pull massive breaking plows. Gottlieb Racek, a Czech emigrant, used this plow on his farm in Burleigh County.

Because

Because you can't feel me, Doesn't mean I'm not there.

*Because you can't see me,
doesn't mean I'm not near.*

*Because you can't hear me,
doesn't mean I don't speak.*

*Because you can't see me,
doesn't mean I'm out of reach.*

Because I have died, doesn't mean I'm gone.

● North Dakota is where my heart belongs. It is where my ancestors settled, lived, and put down roots deep into the soil. It's the center of the world if you live here. It's the homeland to come back to if you roam. It's the place to discover if you've never visited. ●
