After successes, Google to expand 'prebunking'

An alternative to content moderation is less expensive

DAVID KLEPPER
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — After seeing promising results in Eastern Europe, Google will initiate a new campaign in Germany that aims to make people more resilient to the corrosive effects of online misinformation.

The tech giant plans to release a series of short videos highlighting the techniques common to many misleading claims. The videos will appear as advertisements on platforms like Facebook, YouTube or TikTok in Germany. A similar campaign in India is also in the works.

It's an approach called prebunking, which involves teaching people how to spot false claims before they encounter them. The strategy is gaining support among researchers and tech companies.

"There's a real appetite for solutions," said Beth Goldberg, head of research and development at Jigsaw, an incubator division of Google that studies emerging social challenges. "Using ads as a vehicle to counter a disinformation technique is pretty novel. And we're excited about the results."

While belief in falsehoods and conspiracy theories isn't new, the speed and reach of the internet has given them a heightened power. When catalyzed by algorithms, misleading claims can discourage people from getting vaccines, spread authoritarian propaganda, foment distrust in democratic institutions and spur violence.

It's a challenge with few easy solutions. Journalistic fact checks are effective, but they're labor-intensive, aren't read by everyone, and won't convince those already distrustful of traditional journalism.

Content moderation by tech companies is another response, but it only drives misinformation elsewhere, while prompting cries of censorship and bias.

Prebunking videos, by contrast, are relatively cheap and easy to produce and can be seen by millions when placed on popular platforms. They also avoid the political challenge altogether by focusing not on the topics of false claims, which are often cultural lightning rods, but on the techniques that make viral misinformation so infectious.

Those techniques include fear-mongering, scapegoating, false comparisons, exaggeration and missing context. Whether the subject is COVID-19, mass shootings, immigration, climate change or elections, misleading claims often rely on one or more of these tricks to exploit emotions and short-circuit critical thinking.

Last fall, Google launched the largest test of the theory so far with a prebunking video campaign in Poland, the Czech Republic and Slovakia. The videos dissected different techniques seen in false claims about Ukrainian refugees. Many of those claims relied on alarming and unfounded stories about refugees committing crimes or taking jobs away from residents.

The videos were seen 38 million times on Facebook, TikTok, YouTube and Twitter — a number that equates to a majority of the population in the three nations.

Researchers found that compared to people who hadn't seen the videos, those who did watch were more likely to be able to identify misinformation techniques, and less likely to spread false claims to others.

The pilot project was the largest test of prebunking so far and adds to a growing consensus in support of the theory.

"This is a good news story in what has essentially been a bad news business when it comes to misinformation," said Alex Mahadevan, director of MediaWise, a media literacy initiative of the Poynter Institute that has incorporated prebunking into its own programs in countries including Brazil, Spain, France and the U.S.

Mahadevan called the strategy a "pretty efficient way to address misinformation at scale, because you can reach a lot of people while at the same time address a wide range of misinformation."

Other Tail Power Company

Case No. PU-22-429

2023 Renewable Resource Cost Recovery Adj. Factor Rates

Other Tail Power Company

Case No. PU-23-27

2023 Fuel Clause Adjustment - EAR Tariff

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING

On December 30, 2022, in Case No. PU-22-429, Other Tail Power Company (Other Tail) filed a request for approval of its Renewable Resource Cost Recovery (RRCR). The rider recovers projected costs through March 31, 2024, related to investments in the Merricourt Wind Energy Project, the Ashtabula III Wind Farm, and a true-up of unused Production Tax Credits associated with Ashtabula and Langdon Wind Energy Facilities.

Other Tail proposes to increase the RRCR from the current charge of 7.108 percent to 15.541 percent effective April 1, 2023. The effect of the rate change on the bill for a residential customer using 1000 kWh is an increase of $5.77 per month.

On January 23, 2023, in Case No. PU-23-27, Other Tail filed a proposal update to its Energy Adjustment Rider (EAR) Tariff (Section 13.01) to include Midcontinent Independent System Operator ("MISO") Planning Resource Auction ("PRA") capacity costs (or revenues) into the annual energy adjustment rider. Additional minor administrative updates have also been added to this filing. This proposed update is contingent upon the approval of PU-22-429. The MISO PRA revenues is estimated to have an impact of $4 million for 2023.

The issues to consider in Case No. PU-22-429 are:

1. Whether the investments and associated costs for the resources qualify for recovery,
2. Whether the incurred costs are reasonable and prudent, and
3. Whether the rate adjustments are consistent with the terms of Other Tail's tariff.

The issues to consider in Case No. PU-23-27 are:

1. Whether the proposed tariff changes are reasonable, and
2. Whether the tariff changes should be approved.

Those interested are invited to comment on the application in writing. Persons desiring a hearing must file a written request identifying their interest in the proceeding and the reasons for requesting a hearing. Comments and requests for hearing must be received by March 24, 2023. If deemed appropriate, the Commission can determine the matter without a formal hearing.

STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION Otter Tail Power Company Case No. PU-22-429 2023 Renewable Resource Cost Recovery Adj. Factor Rates Otter Tail Power Company Case No. PU-23-27 2023 Fuel Clause Adjustment - EAR Tariff NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING On December 30, 2022, in Case No. PU-22-429, Otter Tail Power Company (Otter Tail) filed a request for approval of its Renewable Resource Cost Recovery (RRCR). The rider recovers projected costs through March 31, 2024, related to investments in the Merricourt Wind Energy Project, the Ashtabula III Wind Farm, and a true-up of unused Production Tax Credits associated with Ashtabula and Langdon Wind Energy Facilities. Otter Tail proposes to increase the RRCR from the current charge of 7.108 percent to 15.541 percent effective April 1, 2023. The effect of the rate change on the bill for a residential customer using 1000 kWh is an increase of $5.77 per month. On January 23, 2023, in Case No. PU-23-27, Otter Tail filed a proposal update to its Energy Adjustment Rider (EAR) Tariff (Section 13.01) to include Midcontinent Independent System Operator ("MISO") Planning Resource Auction ("PRA") capacity costs (or revenues) into the annual energy adjustment rider. Additional minor administrative updates have also been added to this filing. This proposed update is contingent upon the approval of PU-22-429. The MISO PRA revenues is estimated to have an impact of $4 million for 2023. The issues to consider in Case No. PU-22-429 are: 1. Whether the investments and associated costs for the resources qualify for recovery, 2. Whether the incurred costs are reasonable and prudent, and 3. Whether the rate adjustments are consistent with the terms of Otter Tail's tariff. The issues to consider in Case No. PU-23-27 are: 1. Whether the proposed tariff changes are reasonable, and 2. Whether the tariff changes should be approved. Those interested are invited to comment on the application in writing. Persons desiring a hearing must file a written request identifying their interest in the proceeding and the reasons for requesting a hearing. Notice of Public Hearing for 2023 Renewable Resource Cost Recovery Adj. Factor Rates

On December 30, 2022, in Case No. PU-22-429, Otter Tail Power Company (Otter Tail) filed a request for approval of its Renewable Resource Cost Recovery (RRCR). The rider recovers projected costs through March 31, 2024, related to investments in the Merricourt Wind Energy Project, the Ashtabula III Wind Farm, and a true-up of unused Production Tax Credits associated with Ashtabula and Langdon Wind Energy Facilities.

Otter Tail proposes to increase the RRCR from the current charge of 7.108 percent to 15.541 percent effective April 1, 2023. The effect of the rate change on the bill for a residential customer using 1000 kWh is an increase of $5.77 per month. On January 23, 2023, in Case No. PU-23-27, Otter Tail filed a proposal update to its Energy Adjustment Rider (EAR) Tariff (Section 13.01) to include Midcontinent Independent System Operator ("MISO") Planning Resource Auction ("PRA") capacity costs (or revenues) into the annual energy adjustment rider. Additional minor administrative updates have also been added to this filing. This proposed update is contingent upon the approval of PU-22-429. The MISO PRA revenues is estimated to have an impact of $4 million for 2023. The issues to consider in Case No. PU-22-429 are:

- 1. Whether the investments and associated costs for the resources qualify for recovery,
2. Whether the incurred costs are reasonable and prudent, and
3. Whether the rate adjustments are consistent with the terms of Otter Tail's tariff.

The issues to consider in Case No. PU-23-27 are: 1. Whether the proposed tariff changes are reasonable, and 2. Whether the tariff changes should be approved.

Those interested are invited to comment on the application in writing. Persons desiring a hearing must file a written request identifying their interest in the proceeding and the rea-

BC Museum presents "Beneath the Prairie," February 16

The Barnes County Historical Society Lecture Series Season 22 Presents: Tom Askjem "Beneath the Prairie: Privy Digging" 7PM Thursday, February 16 at the Barnes County Museum.

Tom Askjem shares the following information... My name is Tom Askjem. I'm 31 years old and live on a farm near Buxton, North Dakota. I live on the same farm which sparked my interest in history. As a kid, as young as six years old I started digging through the trash dump in the shelterbelt. I found many 7UP and Coca-Cola bottles that were left behind by the previous owners. I later found out that old outhouse sites can be a treasure trove for history. When I was about 14 my Dad was clearing the woods with a tractor when I noticed stove ashes and glass coming out of the ground. I remember reading that stove ashes were often thrown down old outhouse sites to neutralize the smell way back when. I grabbed a shovel and started digging. Sure enough, I found many pieces that dated back to the original days of the farmhouse including dishes, bottles, and many undigested seeds. After finishing that site I spoke with local farmers and got permission to dig on many of the abandoned farm sites around the area. Note that many of them have since been ripped out for farmland. When I was about 20 I met a guy who had recently moved back from Colorado. He had excavated outhouse sites there for 20 years or so. He turned out to be one of my Dad's best friends from childhood. I remembered my Dad telling me stories of the adventures etc that they had been on back in the day. He then taught me everything he knew about digging in towns. Since then I've dug roughly 1,400 sites literally from coast to coast.

All Lectures are at the Barnes County Historical Society Museum and held in conjunction with Valley City State University and are free and open to the public.

For more information contact Wes Anderson at 701-845-0966. The Barnes County Museum is located at 315 Central Ave N in downtown Valley City.

February is designated as Children's Dental Health Month

Special to Times-Record
BISMARCK, N.D. - February is nationally designated as Children's Dental Health Month. This month-long health observance brings together dental professionals, health care providers and educators to promote the benefits of good oral health to children, their parents and other caregivers, teachers and others.

Tooth decay, also known as the presence of cavities, is one of the most common chronic conditions of childhood in the United States. Untreated tooth decay can cause pain and infections that may lead to problems with eating, speaking, playing and learning. North Dakota Health and Human Services (HHS) oral health program (OHP) mission is to improve the oral health of all North Dakotans through prevention and education efforts.

One of the ways the HHS oral health program is helping to meet the needs of North Dakota's children is through SEAL!ND - a school-based sealant program. This program utilizes public health dental hygienists, private practice dentists and Federally Qualified Health Centers to provide oral health education, dental screenings, dental sealants and fluoride varnish treatments to thousands of at-risk children across the state. "Schools are an ideal place to reach children, teachers and caregivers," said Toni Hruby, HHS oral health prevention coordinator. "Through these collaborations with outside partners, we are able to expand the reach of children served across the state."

SEAL!ND was able to provide screenings for 1,684 students, apply 2,460 fluoride varnish applications, protect 3,882 teeth with dental sealants and refer 930 students for further oral health treatment during the 2021-2022 school year.

"Good oral health is a necessity for good overall health," said Hruby. "Parents and caregivers can help children develop good oral health habits early in life to ensure they have a healthy mouth and body."

Tips for creating a healthy smile:

- Brush your teeth at least two times a day with fluoridated toothpaste
• Floss your teeth daily
• Eat a balanced diet
• Drink tap water and limit sugary drinks and snacks
• Avoid using cigarettes, smokeless tobacco and electronic nicotine or vaping products
• Replace your toothbrush every three to four months and after an illness

- Schedule regular dental check-ups and cleanings
• Talk to your dentist about fluoride varnish and sealants for your child

- Fluoride varnish is a protective coating that is painted on teeth to help prevent cavities and to help slow or stop cavities that have just started.

- Sealants prevent cavities by creating a barrier between the teeth and cavity-causing bacteria. Sealants also stop cavities from growing and can prevent the need for fillings.

Not only is it important to know how to care for your smile at home, it is also important to schedule visits with your dentist. Learn more about the HHS OHP at hhs.nd.gov/health/oral-health-program. Follow their tips and schedule your child's next dentist appointment today!

If families are looking for dental coverage, North Dakota Medicaid's Health Tracks benefit pays for dental care including exams, cleanings, x-rays, sealants and fluoride treatment for enrolled children. There are no copays for qualifying families. For more information about Health Tracks, visit hhs.nd.gov/health-tracks.

Roses

were only permitted to partake in activities and hobbies that were "domestically appropriate." After the wife of a British Ambassador to Turkey discovered the Turkish tradition of "flower language," she wrote home to England: "There is no colour, no flower, no weed, no fruit, herb, pebble, or feather that has not a verse belonging to it; and you may quarrel, reproach, or send letters of passion, friendship, or civility, or even of news, without ever inking your fingers."

tion spread the practice throughout Europe, where women began learning the language of flowers (an "appropriate" and graceful hobby), eventually resulting in stories, coloring books and poetry that told of their beauty and lasting power.

Though the symbolic reverence of roses and other flowers were already in existence, it was King Charles II of Sweden (ruler 1809-1818) and Norway (ruler 1814-1818) who is credited for the practice of gifting Valentine's Day flowers.

After a trip to Persia, where the king saw how flowers were used to express emotions, he shared his admiration of the practice when he returned to Europe. Influenced both by his and the ambassador's wife, the "language" became popular. With the rose translated to deep love, they became a frequent gift to spouses and significant others.

Here are some of the messages you might send, depending on which color of roses you choose:

- Red: enduring passion
White: humility, innocence, purity, charm
Yellow: friendship and joy
Pink: gratitude, appreciation, admiration, gentleness, grace
Orange: enthusiasm and desire, energy, excitement Purple: love at first sight, enchantment

The rose has remained popular, serving as the June birth month flower, National flower, and state flower of Georgia, Iowa, New York and the District of Columbia.

So stop and smell the roses, even if you're not purchasing one of the 250 million produced especially for February 14th. Let the scent take you back to Cleopatra's chambers, Josephine Bonaparte's garden, and Ancient Roman or Greek wedding ceremonies. And know that if you do gift a lover or friend with one or more of these luscious red flowers, that it's a gift whose tradition has lasted thousands of years.

How thoughtful!

Otter Tail Power Company
Case No. PU-22-429
2023 Renewable Resource Cost Recovery Adj. Factor Rates
Otter Tail Power Company
Case No. PU-23-27
2023 Fuel Clause Adjustment - EAR Tariff

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING
On December 30, 2022, in Case No. PU-22-429, Otter Tail Power Company (Otter Tail) filed a request for approval of its Renewable Resource Cost Recovery (RRCR). The rider recovers projected costs through March 31, 2024, related to investments in the Merricourt Wind Energy Project, the Ashtabula III Wind Farm, and a true-up of unused Production Tax Credits associated with Ashtabula and Langdon Wind Energy Facilities. Otter Tail proposes to increase the RRCR from the current charge of 7.108 percent to 15.541 percent effective April 1, 2023. The effect of the rate change on the bill for a residential customer using 1000 kWh is an increase of $5.77 per month. On January 23, 2023, in Case No. PU-23-27, Otter Tail filed a proposal update to its Energy Adjustment Rider (EAR) Tariff (Section 13.01) to include Midcontinent Independent System Operator ("MISO") Planning Resource Auction ("PRA") capacity costs (or revenues) into the annual energy adjustment rider. Additional minor administrative updates have also been added to this filing. This proposed update is contingent upon the approval of PU-22-429. The MISO PRA revenues is estimated to have an impact of $4 million for 2023.

The issues to consider in Case No. PU-22-429 are:
1. Whether the investments and associated costs for the resources qualify for recovery,
2. Whether the incurred costs are reasonable and prudent, and
3. Whether the rate adjustments are consistent with the terms of Otter Tail's tariff.

The issues to consider in Case No. PU-23-27 are:
1. Whether the proposed tariff changes are reasonable, and
2. Whether the tariff changes should be approved.

Those interested are invited to comment on the application in writing. Persons desiring a hearing must file a written request identifying their interest in the proceeding and the reasons for requesting a hearing. Comments and requests for hearing must be received by March 24, 2023. If deemed appropriate, the Commission can determine the matter without a formal hearing.
