THE CONFIDENTIAL EXHIBITS ARE AFFORDED TRADE SECRET PROTECTION BY THE FCC AND UNDER NORTH DAKOTA LAW

North Dakota's Open Records Law (N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18 et seq.) provides that information "otherwise specifically provided by law"¹ is not included in the requirement that information must be made publicly available. The Open Records Law also contains a specific exception – Section 44-04-18.4(1) – which provides a safeguard for confidential information (the “Confidential Exception”) and defines what information should be confidential by its nature. The information in Trade Secret Exhibit A falls within the “otherwise specifically provided by law” exception because its information is treated as confidential by the regulations and orders of the Federal Communications Commission (“FCC”). Moreover, the information in the Confidential Exhibits falls within the statutorily defined Confidential Exception.

A. The FCC Treats this Information as Confidential

There is strong precedence for treating the information in Trade Secret A as not included in the requirement for public disclosure. The “term ‘law’ as used in [N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18(1)] includes federal statutes and applicable federal regulations, as well as state law.”² The kinds of information in Trade Secret Exhibit A, Items 1 through 4, is stated to be confidential by the FCC under 47 C.F.R. §§ 0.457 and 0.459 and its orders.³ With Badlands Cellular of North Dakota Limited Partnership’s Confidential Exhibits A-1, A-2, A-3, and C-1, the Commission determined that information materially similar to Trade Secret Exhibit A, Items 1 through 4, is protected under federal regulation.⁴ The Company previously applied for Trade Secret treatment in similar cases designated Case Nos. PU-09-592, PU-10-548, PU-11-461, and PU-12-402. On September 27, 2012, the Commission issued its Order Granting Trade Secret Protection with respect to three of these cases: Case Nos. PU-09-592, PU-10-548 and PU-11-461. Thus, the Commission should also grant trade secret protection in this case and consider the Company's current Trade Secret Exhibit A, Items 1 through 4, to be confidential under the exception in N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18(1) for information "otherwise specifically provided by law" as non-public.

B. The Confidential Exhibits Fall within the Confidential Exception

All information contained in the exhibits falls clearly within The Confidential Exception.

N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18.4(1) states that:

- (1) Trade secret, proprietary, commercial, and financial information is confidential if it is (2) of a privileged nature and (3) it has not been previously publicly disclosed. (Emphasis and numbering added.)

The act defines "Trade secret" as follows:

"Trade secret" means information, including a formula, pattern, compilation, program, device, method, technique, technical know-how or process, that:

1. Derives independent economic value, actual or potential, from not being generally known to, and not being readily ascertainable by proper means by, other persons that can obtain economic value from its disclosure or use; and

2. Is the subject of efforts that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain the secrecy of the information.⁵

Trade Secret Exhibit A, Items 1 through 4, meet each element of the Confidential Exception under North Dakota Statutes. First, they fall squarely within the definition of a “trade secret.” The Company derives value from competitors not knowing the information contained in Trade Secret Exhibit A, Items 1 through 4, as competitors could obtain economic value from the disclosure. Given this potential, the Company closely safeguards the information by prohibiting employee disclosure and restricting access to the information contained within the Exhibits. Second, the information in Trade Secret Exhibit A, Items 1 through 4, is “of a privileged nature” because “disclosure of the information is likely ... to cause substantial harm to the competitive position of the person from whom the information was obtained.”⁶ The Company would be substantially harmed if the information in Trade Secret Exhibit A, Items 1 through 4, were made public. Finally, the information in the Trade Secret Exhibit A, Items 1 through 4, has not been disclosed publicly. This means the information should be treated as confidential and not disclosed to the public.

⁵ N.D.C.C. § 44.04-18.4.

IV. CONCLUSION

The Company respectfully requests that Trade Secret Exhibit A, Items 1 through 4, be held confidential pursuant to N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18 et seq.
